Average trade and bills receivables turnover days ⁽²⁾	63	64	-1 days
Average trade and bills payables turnover days ⁽³⁾	260	219	+41 days

(1) Calculated as average inventory divided by cost of sales, multiplied by 365 days/2

(2) Calculated as average trade and bills receivables divided by revenue, multiplied by 365 days/2

(3) Calculated as average trade and bills payables divided by cost of sales, multiplied by 365 days/2

- Inventory turnover days increased by 29 days, which was mainly due to ①the Group prepared raw materials in advance, ②slightly advanced production so that the amount of finished goods increased, ③slowed down the delivery pace and frequency to distributors during the first half of the financial year, aiming to implement a responsive supply chain management capable of “small orders in quick response” to better meet consumer demand in the uncertain market environment
- The Group has provided customers with 30 to 90 days of credit period; During the Period, the Group has strengthened the management of accounts receivable, thereby average trade and bills receivables turnover days decreased by 1 day to 63 days
- During the Period, purchasing increased significantly; The increase in average trade payables and bills payables exceeded the growth in cost of sales, thereby average trade and bills payables turnover days increased by 41 days as compared to last year

Operation Management

Supply Chain Management

The ability to “deliver high-quality products in quick response” is an important competitive strength that has led to the Group’s continued success in the industry and is also one of its core competitive advantages with which the Group maintains efficient, healthy and sustainable development

- Implemented the down apparel, industry-leading model of futures/goods-in-stock operation
- Continuously replenished on a rolling basis during the peak seasons in sales according to retail sales data and trend forecasts on the market
- The demand pull replenishment, quick launch of new products and delivery of small orders in quick responses enable efficient turnover cycle and operation efficiency

In the 1H of FY24/25, the supply chain of the Group continuously underwent systematic planning and upgrading in terms of flexible and quick responses, excellent quality, scientific research and technology, resources integration and cost leadership

Logistics and Delivery

Continuously adopted a system to automatically match transport and delivery resources for each order, collected and monitored data in respect of each step of the entire process, including collection, distribution, in-transit and sign-for-acceptance

Took a series of actions in the logistics park to improve its logistics efficiency

- Maximized service efficiency
- Improved user’ experiences
- Significantly improved speed of delivery from warehouses
- Optimized transportation efficiency

The Group maintained its industry leadership in terms of its logistics and delivery capability

Digital Operation

Made significant achievements in digitalization in many fields, including smart manufacturing, smart logistics and smart merchandise operation, gradually established a direction in which it would focus on users, retail and commodities as the entry points for digital transformation in the future

Completed the preliminary design, development and testing of the core business operation platform (based on users, retail and commodities), thereby providing powerful technical tools and solutions for the Group’s digital transformation

In the 1H of FY24/25, with the full implementation of the SAP system as a business-finance integrated platform across the Group and through digital transformation, the Group further laid a solid foundation for its operation and management, provided accurate financial data to support decision-making and established a cornerstone for digital revolution
